REPORT:

The Alumni Meet conducted by the Department of Commerce in association with the Directorate of Alumni Affairs was a momentous occasion that brought together alumni, faculty, and students, fostering a sense of camaraderie and connection. The event commenced at 2 PM on the 4th floor of the FSH Block II, with the enthusiastic participation of alumni members who contributed to making the day memorable for everyone involved. The program began with a warm and heartfelt welcome address delivered by the Head of the Department, Dr. A. Kavitha, who emphasized the importance of alumni in shaping the growth and reputation of the department and the institution as a whole. The Alumni Meet provided an opportunity for networking and collaboration between alumni and faculty members. The department plans to organize similar events in the future to further enhance alumni engagement and institutional development.

This was followed by an insightful session on Recent Developments at FSH presented by Dr. A. Thilagaraj, Associate Professor, who provided an overview of the advancements and progress achieved by the Faculty of Science and Humanities, highlighting the initiatives that have significantly enhanced the academic and extracurricular landscape of the institution.

Dr. P. Sankar, Associate Professor, then took the stage to discuss Courses and Curriculum, elaborating on the department's efforts to innovate and adapt the curriculum to meet the evolving demands of industries and the academic community. He highlighted the introduction of new courses, the integration of interdisciplinary subjects, and the emphasis on fostering practical knowledge and critical thinking among students. Following this, Dr. M. Hemanathan, Associate Professor, provided an engaging account of Events and Accolades at FSH, recounting the various events organized by the Faculty of Science and Humanities and the recognition received by students and faculty members alike. He spoke about the department's achievements in academic competitions, cultural events, and community outreach programs, showcasing the vibrant and dynamic environment fostered at FSH.

The event concluded with a Vote of Thanks delivered by Dr. D. Bhuvaneswari, who thanked the alumni for their continued support and involvement in the department's activities. She also acknowledged the efforts of the faculty, staff, and organizing team in making the event a grand success. The Alumni Meet provided an excellent platform for alumni to reconnect with their alma mater, share their experiences, and inspire the current students. The Department of Commerce and the Faculty of Science and Humanities look forward to hosting more such events to strengthen the bond with their alumni and celebrate their collective achievements.
