ABOUT FACULTY OF SCIENCE AND HUMANITIES

The Faculty of Science and Humanities at SRMIST has witnessed exceptional growth since its inception in 2003. With a student strength of nearly 7200 students and a faculty strength of around 214, FSH is an ideal destination for attaining well-rounded, holistic education inside and outside the classrooms. Twenty departments offer 53 programs in total, 31 at the Bachelor's and 20 at the Master's level, and 2 Diploma. We offer Ph.D. programs in all the departments. The hallmark of the Education programs at the Faculty of Science and Humanities at SRMIST is the delivery of research-led learning, practical knowledge, multicultural competence, and global awareness. Our academic programs allow learners to cultivate cultural, social, and political insights, creativity, and critical thinking across various academic disciplines. The rich tradition of attracting students from all parts of India and other parts of the world, like South Asia, East Asia, and Africa, provides our students and faculty members with exposure to a multicultural environment.

ABOUT THE SYMPOSIUM

This symposium aims to explore the multifaceted dimensions of quality education through the lens of inclusivity and sustainability. As we strive to meet the goals of Sustainable Development Goal 4, it is essential to understand how education can serve as a powerful catalyst for social change and environmental stewardship. The Key Themes are Inclusivity in Education, Sustainable Futures and Global Perspectives.

OBJECTIVES

- 1. Inclusivity in Education: Focus on strategies to ensure that all individuals, particularly marginalized groups and physically challenged, have access to quality education.
- 2. Sustainable Futures : Project Expo and Art Exhibition will highlight how educational frameworks can integrate sustainability principles, preparing learners to tackle pressing global challenges.
- 3. Global Perspectives for Cross-Cultural Learning: The symposium will feature insights from educators and organizations worldwide, showcasing innovative practices that enhance quality education across different contexts.
